As restrictions are eased further, all of us are keeping a watchful eye on infection rates across Europe during the holiday season in the hope that the overall number continues to fall.

Austria has introduced local and national measures so that the country can react quickly to regional clusters and stay on top of the coronavirus. Up-to-date information on the number of cases in Austria is available here.

EANM and all of its partners, including the national health authorities, are and will remain in regular contact with one another as the situation progresses. In this way, we will ensure that the entire EANM’20 congress complies with current regulations to make your visit a safe and rewarding one!

YOUR FEEDBACK

Many thanks for your feedback and questions, a couple of which we can answer here:

Yes, we are pleased to inform you that the Austria Center Vienna and its suppliers are working hard on a unique safety and hygiene concept to keep visitors protected.

Yes, we are drawing up a list of frequently asked questions and are keeping them updated. We plan to put them up on our website next week and will of course send you the link as soon as possible.
